Where to go for help on campus?

Guide for Students
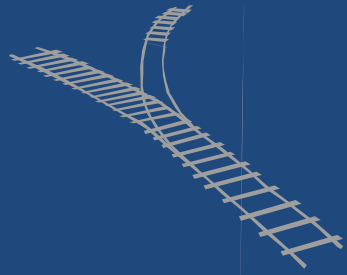

UNIVERSITY OF ALASKA FAIRBANKS

Starting Point

If you are a student with educational issues, you are encouraged to talk with the course instructor/faculty member, the Department Chair or the Dean to seek resolution.

For access to or information about your academic record, or if you believe there has been a violation of the Family Education Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA), please contact the Office the Registrar.

E-mail: registrar@uaf.edu

Center for Student Rights and Responsibilities

If you are a student experiencing academic is-sues or seek review of final course grades, you must first attempt to resolve the issue informally with the instructor of the course. If the course instructor is unavailable and/or you believe the grading was arbitrary and capricious, the next step would be to address the issue or issues with the appropriate department chair. If you are dissatisfied with the resolution, you may file a grade appeal with the department off t

The Department of Residence Life has made every effort to instil a safety culture in our hall communities. The safety of our residents is of utmost importance to us and we strive to keep all of our facilities secure. UAF is a safe campus, and we intend to keep it safe by making sure that our roughly 2,000 residential students, staff and faculty understand and take a part in protecting themselves and their community. The more proactive we are, the safer we become and remember -

Office Hours: Monday-Friday 9am to 4pm * MBS Complex, 732 Yukon Drive
Phone: (907) 474-7247 * Email: uaf-housing@alaska.edu

Department of Equity and Compliance

The Department of Equity and Compliance processes
. If you believe you are being treated differently or if you believe your educational opportunities are being affected by o

The function of ASUAF is to represent and act on behalf of the students of the University of Alaska Fairbanks. The Associated Students of UAF, or ASUAF, is located in Wood Center.

Hours of operation are Monday to Friday 8:00am - 5:00pm.